Exclusive: 'They Euthanized Him' — Widow Recounts Husband's Fatal COVID Protocol Treatment

John Springer, 59, had no known health issues when he was diagnosed in November 2021 with COVID-19. After being transferred from his local hospital in Kansas to a medical center in Oklahoma, doctors — without John's consent or the consent of his family — treated him with remdesivir, fentanyl and morphine and put him on a ventilator, where he spent the final 17 days of his life.

In November 2021, 59-year-old truck driver and Kansas native John Springer was enjoying life with his wife of 31 years, Peggy Rice Springer, and their seven children.

"He was an amazing husband, an amazing father," Peggy told The Defender. "He worked hard six days a week, took very good care of his family. He was an honest, hardworking, taxpaying American guy. He had so much faith in God. That was important to him and all of us."

John and Peggy and seven children, three of whom were John's stepchildren. "But he stepped right in and took over and did not treat them any differently than he treated the ones we had together," Peggy said.

John was also very involved in the rodeo life of his youngest daughter, who had just graduated from high school at the time.

On Nov. 1, 2021, Peggy and John began experiencing cold symptoms, which were soon diagnosed as COVID-19.

With the symptoms lingering, they sought medical attention on Nov. 7, 2021. Three days later, John was admitted to Pratt Regional Medical Center in Pratt, Kansas.

Less than a month later, on Dec. 2, 2021, and after being transferred to Oklahoma State University (OSU) Medical Center in Tulsa, John was dead.

According to Peggy, her husband had no prior indications of poor health.

"He had to take a physical once a year and he passed every time with flying colors," she said. "He absolutely took very good care of himself."

In an interview with The Defender, Peggy detailed her husband's ordeal in both hospitals where he was treated, which included the administration of drugs such as remdesivir and morphine without his consent. She shared medical documentation with The Defender to corroborate her story.

'He never came home'

Peggy said she and John felt "very, very sick" in early November 2021.

"I couldn't walk. I couldn't breathe. I could hardly eat, couldn't pick a glass up to take a drink. And he just said he felt like he couldn't get enough air."

They drove to Pratt Regional Medical Center, the hospital where, according to Peggy, "we had doctored at for 30-some years, and had our babies." Given the close relationship they had with their doctor, they trusted the hospital.

When they arrived, the first question the staff asked them was, "Are you vaccinated?" They answered "No."

The hospital put the Springers in separate rooms. They hooked Peggy up to IVs to hydrate her and performed chest x-rays, CT scans and blood work on both of them.

"Everything looked good," so they were discharged and told to return the next day for treatment with monoclonal antibodies, Peggy recalled.

The next day, Nov. 8, 2021, Peggy received the antibodies — but John was separated from her and placed on oxygen because his oxygen was too low, according to the nurses.

John was sent home with an oxygen tank the same day, but by Nov. 10, 2021, his oxygen level remained low.

"He was like, 'I just don't feel like I'm getting enough,'" Peggy recalled. "And so, our youngest daughter took him back to the hospital."

The hospital wouldn't let Peggy's daughter go in, so she sat in the parking lot by herself until about 11 p.m., when staff informed her they were going to keep her father overnight and give him more oxygen, so she should go home.

"He never came home," Peggy said. "They sent him to Oklahoma the next day, against our wishes. He did not want to go. I did not want him to go. But the ER doctor — not our personal doctor — told me that if I didn't allow him to be sent, then I wanted him to die."

"They say things like that, and they make you feel like it's your fault that they're there and that they're sick," she added. "And I know that I didn't do it, but at the same time, I feel guilty for sending him to the hospital."

John's transfer to Oklahoma did not make sense, she said. "We lived in Kansas, we've lived here all of our lives. They didn't have a bed for him, but they had a bed for a guy two states away. They were transferring people from other states into Kansas."

"None of it makes sense and they don't want it to make sense," Peggy said. "They don't want it to make sense because then if it makes sense, people will fight back."

'They euthanized him'

On Nov. 16, 2021, just days after arriving at OSU Medical Center, John Springer was placed on a ventilator, without consent, where he spent the final 17 days of his life.

"When they did vent him and called me, I told them that they didn't have permission to do that," Peggy Springer said. "Their response was 'well, he has COVID.' When I asked the doctor how many patients she had vented, she told me 100. And when I asked her how many came off the vent, she told me 10."

"When I asked them to try ivermectin, she chuckled and told me my husband wasn't a horse and hung up. I called our personal doctor, and he told me there was nothing he could do for us and hung up."

"No family should have to be put back through that kind of nightmare of not being able to sit down and advocate and talk to a doctor and say, 'we're not comfortable with this,'" Peggy added.

According to Peggy, the poor treatment her husband received at OSU Medical Center began even before he was placed on a ventilator. Through text messages she exchanged with John before he was vented, she learned he was being denied food.

"He couldn't talk because he had that big mask on, but he would text me and he would say 'I'm really, really hungry.' When she asked what he had for breakfast, he texted, 'They've not brought me anything to eat.'"

According to Peggy, when she called the hospital to inquire why John hadn't been served breakfast, she was told, "We just had to go in and give him morphine." When asked why the hospital was administering morphine to John, who was not in pain, she was told it was "because he's agitated."

Yet, John's text messages about not being fed continued. "At that time, I didn't realize the 'why' of that," Peggy said. "And now I understand that they were doing that to many [patients], they were withholding food."

During the time John was at OSU Medical Center, he had "38 doses of fentanyl, along with morphine, along with all these other deadly drugs," Peggy said.

"That's not okay," she said. "They euthanized him. They basically shut his breathing off. The only thing that John was doing on his own was his heartbeat."

"And I truly believe that's because John was a man of God and that He was going to let that heart keep beating until I was able to be with him and talk to him."

Peggy said that during the time John was at OSU Medical Center, she was denied visitation — or information about the treatment he was receiving. Instead, drugs and treatments were administered to John without their consent.

"I couldn't get into the hospital to see him," she said. "If I told them I was coming, they told me they wouldn't let me in. They wouldn't talk to me. They wouldn't tell me what they were giving him, because if he would've known that, he would've told them no."

Both Peggy and John told hospital staff several times he didn't want to be vented.

"When I tried to talk to the doctor and get questions answered, she would tell me it was just COVID and that she didn't have time to have a discussion with me, that she had things to do," Peggy said. "The nurses told me I needed to quit calling."

"My husband knew probably within a week or two of being there that he wasn't coming home," Peggy said. "His last text message to me said, 'Things are not okay. I love you and God's in control.' And the next day, I got the phone call that he had been vented and he didn't come out of that."

Peggy subsequently learned that he was given remdesivir, fentanyl and morphine, along with "a couple other really bad medications."

"They basically shut his breathing off and euthanized him with life-ending drugs when it wasn't the end of his life," she said. "The very first day he got there [to OSU Medical Center], they gave him remdesivir, they loaded him down with morphine."

'They took my world, they took my kids' world'

On Dec. 2, 2021, Peggy Springer received a fateful phone call from the hospital.

"They called me on Dec. 2 and told me they would try to keep him alive until I got there," she recalled. "I was four hours away. I was able to get there and spend three-and-a-half hours with him before his heart stopped."

"They took my world, they took my kids' world," she said. "And not only did my kids lose their father, they lost their mother in this grief too, because I've had to figure out how to navigate life without him. I had to get a different job so I could support myself and my daughter, and it's not okay."

"Our 16-year-old daughter — she's 18 now — carries the guilt that she's the one that took her dad to the hospital, and that's not okay," Peggy added. "And I've told her that she's not guilty, because she was only taking him to get him help."

The family's ordeal continued even after John's death. According to Peggy, the family experienced difficulty getting his death certificate signed and, later, obtaining his medical records.

"It took two weeks for the doctor to take two minutes out of their day to hop on an email and electronically sign a death certificate so that we could give my husband a funeral service and honor his life," she said.

Obtaining John's medical records was another challenge. "I had to get an attorney and prove that I was head of the estate. That took about three months. They would not hand those records over," Peggy said.

"I don't think that they were expecting us to stand up and demand medical records and fight back," she added. "I think they expected us to accept that our loved ones were very, very sick and just died."

'If he had been treated appropriately, he wouldn't have died'

John's medical records were revealing, Peggy Springer said.

"I did not know of any of the medications they were giving him until I got his medical records," she said. The medical records indicated John had a broken nose. "He didn't have a broken nose when he went in, and I still haven't figured out how his nose was broken."

"He had a blood clot that wasn't treated," Peggy added. "It's in his medical records."

"He was given a lot of bad medications and drugs that shut his organs down, shut his breathing down, severe kidney and liver failure. He had none of those issues before this nightmare happened," she added.

Yet even John's medical records weren't fully revealing. Earlier this year, almost a year after receiving the medical records, OSU Medical Center sent Peggy an itemized billing statement, which listed fentanyl.

Former Mississippi gubernatorial candidate and physician Dr. John Witcher, who has advocated for the recall of the COVID-19 vaccines and launched Mississippi Against Mandates, reviewed John Springer's medical records. In an interview with The Defender, he said John's initial symptoms exhibited a "classic COVID picture."

"He definitely had COVID, definitely was in dire straits and in severe respiratory distress," Witcher said. "What they should have done from day one is put him on ivermectin, hydroxychloroquine, lots of steroids and blood thinners. His D-dimer was way too high. This is typical of what we see with COVID."

"If he had been treated appropriately, he wouldn't have died," Witcher added.

For Peggy, the inappropriate treatment John received was connected to his unvaccinated status, among other factors.

"John would talk about how they were trying to depopulate," Peggy recalled. "I knew something wasn't right and he definitely knew something wasn't right. But I've come to the conclusion that it's because he was a healthy unvaxxed American man that would fight for his family and protect them against everything."

'I will be his voice and I will not stop'

Peggy said she is now ready to pursue legal action in connection to her husband's death.

"We have found that instead of going after hospitals for malpractice, we're going after them for constructive fraud and uninformed consent," she said. "Nowhere in John's medical records are there any consent forms or any kind of consent stating that he gave them permission to do anything that they did, and they absolutely did not get any consent from me."

According to Peggy, the constructive fraud argument is being pursued "because, with remdesivir, it does state that if a doctor is going to use that medication, they have to tell the family about the side effects. They have to tell the family about the survival rate … None of that was shared."

According to Witcher, "From experience, many patients were coerced. They were isolated, sad, couldn't get out of bed, were intubated, on morphine, told 'you're going to die' and had no family member or loved one there to consult with." He said, "These are the typical things that happened" in hospitals and that this "probably happened" to John.

However, for now, Peggy has focused on sharing her husband's story and raising awareness of the COVID-19 hospital protocols which she believes are responsible for the treatment her husband received.

"My focus is just honoring John and getting his story out there and waking people up and trying to get hospital rights changed, so nobody else has to live this nightmare," Peggy said, noting that she is working with the FormerFedsGroup Freedom Foundation.

"Anytime I can share John's story, I will share it," Peggy said, noting that she spoke to Children's Health Defense's (CHD) staff on the Vax-Unvax Bus and has recently attended several rallies, including one at which Robert F. Kennedy Jr., CHD's chairman on leave, spoke.

Peggy said she is doing "Anything I can do to be John's voice — it's not my voice, it's John's voice — to get it out there and bring attention to this … Whatever I need to do, I will do it. I will be his voice and I will not stop," she said.

"I couldn't save him, but I can hope to God to save somebody else from going through this. That's my goal along with trying to get justice, trying to hold the doctors and hospitals accountable, which is very, very tough," she said.

Peggy is working with a Kansas senator to put a patient's bill of rights in place "so that no other family has to be isolated," and so they can "sit with the doctor and go over what kind of treatment they would like for their loved one, not what the government and the doctor want."

Peggy added that she is seeking out other victims and their families, "because there are so many people out there that know something wasn't okay. They just don't know for sure what, and I don't think they know where to turn or what to say or what to do."

For such victims and their families, Peggy said, "If their instinct is telling them that something wasn't right, their gut instinct is correct, and there are people out there that are willing to be there for them and listen to them and try to find them the help that they need," she said.

"I just want them to know that they are not alone, they are not crazy, they're loved, and they have people out here that will be there for them and help them through this nightmare," she said.

I had to go to the hospital recently because I was so sick. I wasn't having any respiratory problems, but I was losing a lot of fluids from diarrhea and they diagnosed me with Covid. I was so dehydrated and my heart rate went up to 150. The Er dr put me on saline and the nurse told me I was only getting an inch of fluids an hour. The nurse said that didn't make sense. They put me on the floor for heart patients and that didn't make sense. They also didn't do anything to help my stomach. They asked me if I wanted fentanyl and I said no. The food was horrible and I would have starved to death if I would have had to stay any longer. I was afraid that they wouldn't let me go home and I think the Er dr wanted me to get sicker. It was a terrible experience.

Canada has legislated euthanasia! First it was if someone was sick knew going to pass. Then it is if someone is depressed and doesn't want to live.

Correct. This was Murder. Look up the word "euthanasia" at https://www.dictionary.com/... . These medical malpractitioners were not dealing with "...a person or animal suffering from an incurable, especially a painful, disease or condition." They murdered him for the money they would receive from the U.S. government for doing so. These malpractitioners should be marched up the stairs to an execution platform; forced to place their head on an executioner's block; and, humanely beheaded by a hooded brute employing an executioner's axe. And, YouTube should be forced to maintain a video library of these beheadings as a warning to other potential medical malpractitioners.

The hospitals murdered so many people and got paid to do it without any consequences. My mother was one of those victims. Given 2 IVs full of Remdesivir (run death is near), they blew out her lungs, never gave her the heart or thyroid medications she needed, sedated her and did not let her get out of bed or even shower her for the entire 21 days she was in the hospital in Globe Az. By the time we got her out, she was already dying from starvation and dehydration with kidney failure and a hell of a bed ulcer on her tailbone. The crime of the century. Very heartbreaking.

"BINGO"!
"American scientists "Misled" Pentagon on research at the Wuhan Institute of Virology"

"American researchers concealed their intention to conduct high-risk coronavirus research in Wuhan under lax safety standards from the Pentagon the year before the COVID-19 pandemic, according to documents obtained by U.S. Right to Know. "

A 2018 grant proposal called Project DEFUSE, coauthored by the Wuhan Institute of Virology and "American Scientists", has stoked concern that the "pandemic resulted from a lab accident."

It proposed engineering high-risk coronaviruses of the same species as SARS and SARS-CoV-2. Most worrying to some scientists: The proposal involved synthesizing spike proteins with furin cleavage sites — "the same feature that supercharged SARS-CoV-2 into the most infectious pandemic pathogen in a century. Indeed, some scientists have likened DEFUSE to a blueprint for generating SARS-CoV-2 in the lab."

There is no virus found for covid or SARS. None. It was all at the exact time where the radiation increased on the earth from the new 3G then 4G. And they FALSELY named 5g -- which is a bioweapon that has been around on battlefields since WWII. Check out Rumble videos by UK weapons expert Mark Steele. Tough guy. He's furious about this whole thing using this bioweapon on the world's civilian population. ALL the illnesses that caused breathing problems were blood clots in the lungs caused by the increase in that energy. It delays our blood clotting time and that's why the body can bleed quite a bit before the clotting starts happening which causes the large blood clots which interfere with the lungs' function.

I knew from the start it had to do with 5G being rolled out. I read about the harm 5G would do. Then it's rolled out the same time covid hit. When covid symptoms was announced it was the same symptoms you get from radiation.
I was telling everyone its 5G causing it and they thought i was going crazy. Lol! If you recall at the beginning of the lockdown a cruise shit was out they said everyone one board was suck with it, I said because its 5G. Covid just started and a cruise ship that left just before, everyone on board had covid? That's why they wanted us locked down. To put it in schools on the roads in hospitals, etc. I agree with you and I am not scientist. 5G is harming the planet and every living thing on it

My mother was murdered by the CDC PROTOCOL for COVID: Remdesivir and Dexamethasone. Remdesivir causes Renal (kidney) Organ Failure, Septic Shock, Diarrhea, and fills the lungs with fluid.
Dexamethasone causes Edema. My mother made it through the 5 treatment CDC protocol but 2 weeks after recovering at a nursing home was diagnosed with stage 5 kidney failure, Lymphedema, and scarred lungs (COPD).
Her legs after 2 months looked like dinosaur legs and feet. They were holding 65 pounds of fluid. After 2 years of intense suffering, loosing the ability to walk, loosing 100 lbs, and going from home-hospital-nursing home in an endless loop, she decided to come home on hospice and stop taking the meds that kept her alive. If she never allowed them to give her that treatment, she would still be alive and walking today.

The Company that plans to ‘distribute Remdesivir’, ‘UNITAID’, a therapy for Covid#19 ‘Gates, Fauci, Obama, Soro’s, and Clintons have a Financial Interest’? One billionaire investor behind UNITAID is ‘George Soros’ himself . But why stop there? UNITAID is also financed by the ‘Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation’ and also involves a partnership with the ‘Clinton Health Access Initiative’ (CHAI). And interestingly enough both UNITAID and Gilead Biosciences ‘supported’ Hillary Clinton for president in 2016 .

awful, sorry for your pain. People still deny the cull that is still in progress, and will get worse with forced injections via the pandemic treaty.

Remdivisir killed nearly 75% of those that had it administered to them. Dr Fudgy made money & the NIH made money from it. The WEF in 2015 announced they wanted the world population to drop to under 1 Billion people. At that time it was at 7 Billion. Bill Gates wants it at 800 Million! Now you see why the DEVIL WORSHIPERS keep Creating these MANMADE VIRUSES! AIDS is another!

Remdevisir isn't a treatment for anything. It's only purpose is murder and putting money in Fauci's pocket. Need to start the lawsuits against Fauci too. The Dems have set the precedent by allowing frivolous lawsuits against Trump.

This is SOOO heartbreaking! And the worst part is that, rather than this being a freakish isolated case, it is just one of THOUSANDS of cases of premeditated, institutionalized MURDER FOR PROFIT!!!! Imagine the EVIL run-rampant that is taking over the medical system in virtually ALL U.S. hospitals! Good people— everyday Americans have no concept of what is going on behind closed doors. We want to be able to trust doctors and trust the System, BUT WE NO LONGER CAN! Our very survival depends now on administering to ourselves and STAYING OUT OF HOSPITALS. Dr. Pierre Kory just wrote a piece about this very subject— that it is imperative that we never let ourselves be admitted to any hospital. THAT is pretty damn PATHETIC! Hospitals are the new KILLING FIELDS.

Everyone absolutely must take better care of their health. STOP eating polyunsaturated "vegetable" oils (high omega 6 industrial seed oils): the MAIN cause behind the modern scourges of heart disease, cancer, and diabetes— it causes major oxidative stress and inflammation, and messes up cell membranes and receptors. Take supplements to supply those deficient in our food supply: vitamins C, D3, K2, B Complex, and minerals, particularly: magnesium, zinc, selenium, iodine, chromium, and copper. And avoid high oxalate/high anti-nutrient plant foods (spinach, beets, grains— especially whole grains— soy, almonds, beans, etc.). Eat animal parts— meat and organs, and animal fats: preferably from grass-fed, not grain-fed fats as are in most chicken and pork these days (high in omega 6 oils).

They were killing people by putting them on ventilators when they didn't need to be.

I know of a man who thankfully was able to keep telling the doctors “no” when they wanted to put him on a ventilator. Wife also told them no. I gave her some of my stash of ivermectin and hydroxichloroquine. She didn’t get it to him, but thankfully he was discharged and is fine.

It sounds just like a couple I knew. He got confined to the hospital and she was forbidden to see him, even send a card or call on the phone. One staffer would let him call her with her cell phone when she came in. He was totally isolated, not fed and told her that. She was essentially cut off when she began to ask questions. Their doctor would claim but never diagnosed her as having dementia and refused to see her and told that to his staff. He told them not to listen to her because she was agitated. His death certificate did say that he died of "lack of thriving". She ended up depressed and in the hospital. She eventually received the same disregard when I stayed with her. They acted like she had dementia and would dismiss her questions and complaints, even though she had very clear comprehension when we talked. She had no children, just neices - one believed what the doctor said without question. The other stayed confused and distressed for her because it didn't seem right. The doctor decided to send her to hospice and then cut off all but pain medicines. She died in a few days.

I witnessed the same treatment and disregard of three others who would die. Yes. It is genocide.

“Lack of thriving” was because of their care. They killed them both.

There's a word for what happened to John Springer. It begins with "m" and ends in "urder."

God Bless John, and Peggy is amazing for doing this much to fight the evil medical establishment. She is doing the right thing by working to shine attention to this so it never happens again.

I am so glad that she is following through on this, in memory of what her husband suffered at the hands of this hospital.

It is very sad when you trust healthcare and they let you down by deliberate or incompetent medical malpractice.

Best way to stop this from ever happening again: if any hospital treats a patient like this, they will be denied all payment for services rendered. They should go to jail for murder, but denying payment will be far more effective to put a stop to this sort of treatment because profit was the purpose behind this. On top of that, the costs of such treatments are so massive that Peggy likely will be in debt for years over it and if she refuses to pay, she could be sued over the debt for something that wasn't even consented to.

Nothing can bring John back, but Peggy shouldn't have to deal with years of renewed pain every time she makes a payment on what must be a massive debt.

Have you ever had this transpire self or others: by the time one realizes the patient is deteriorating..and dies...try to get the insurance..and proper person. and if a gov program..no way...Rubber stamping is INSURANCE to Medicaid to Medicare. Medicaid was predicted to collapse prior to the Lockdowns..now we have 20M whom have entered our soil if you are in the USA..and since we have a border patrol DNA...over l/3 females are pregnant with a baby and toddlers..sick and auto signed up for US tax paid womb to tomb = to AFDC...EXPEDITATED COLLAPSE then Medicare to SS, SSD SSI.

How are you going to deny payment if you have health insurance? It pays or they force you into bankruptcy

The hospital/industrial complex has become a monster. Besides what this poor woman has been experiencing, there's also the harvesting of body parts that takes place. I've heard of horror stories whereby people are unconscious but still alive and having their body cut up to get as fresh as possible organs for transplanting. The Hippocratic Oath is nothing but a formality in today's medical field where the love of money is the norm.

Every hospital already has a Patient Bill of Rights; they elected to not honor them or a Power of Attorney during Covid. So unless this becomes a Federal Statute with heavy fines and investigations like a COBRA violation, it's not going to be effective.

Try to find a qualified attorney to assist. GOV does not nor Med Boards.. Insurance couldn't care less: workers pay..and pay for those who DO NOT WORK foreign and domestic. since l964 & 65 Chain Migration. 2023 20M entered our soil...can you who work pay for a sick pregnant female with a sick malnutritioned baby, toddler etc. womb to tomb..like AFDC?

THIS IS A TRAGIC STORY THAT FILLS MY HEART WITH SADNESS. AS I HAVE SEEN THIS TOO MANY TIMES I HAVE SEEN TWO KINDS OF PEOPLE..

1. THEY PREPARE BY STUDYING COVID AND PURCHASING HYDROXYCHLOROQUINE AND/OR IVERMECTIN, THEY PREPARE THEIR FAMILY DIRECTIVES TO HAND TO THE HOSPITAL ADMITTANCE ON ENTRY FOR ANY REASON THAT STATES WHAT THEY DO AND DON'T AUTHORIZE FOR TREATMENT, THEY MAIL THAT DIRECTIVE TO THE CEO OF SURROUNDING HOSPITALS, THEY TAKE SUPPLEMENTS TO STRENGTHEN THEIR IMMUNE SYSTEMS LIKE VIT D, C, E, A, AND Z AS WELL AS QUERCETIN...HOW DID THEY LEARN ABOUT ALL THIS? THERE ARE MANY SHOWS THAT INFORM THESE TREATMENTS, PUBLICATIONS, AND BLOGS...THIS IS NOT THAT HARD TO FIND IF YOU'RE LOOKING.

2. THEY DO NOT PREPARE BUT WAIT AND HOPE THEY WON'T GET IT. WHEN IT COMES, THEY ARE OVER-WHELMED AND CHECK INTO THE HOSPITAL WHERE THEY ARE TREATED AS THIS ARTICLE HAS DESCRIBED.

LESSON LEARNED? PAY ATTENTION TO WHAT'S GOING ON AROUND YOU AND AVOID VACCINES LIKE THE PLAGUE...ALSO KEEP YOUR DISTANCE FROM PEOPLE WHO ARE VACCINATED, AND WHEN YOU SEE ANY SYMPTOMS TAKE ACTION BASED ON YOUR PLANS.

AGAIN THIS TRAGIC AND THESE FOLKS WERE ON THE RIGHT TRACK BY AVOIDING VACCINES. BUT THEY ONLY WENT THAT FAR AND APPARENTLY NO FARTHER. I AM VERY SORRY FOR THIS LOSS AND PRAY THIS FAMILY WILL STAY SAFE IN GOD'S CARE FOR THE REMAINDER OF THEIR TIME.

There is something bad wrong with our medical industry. I've stopped visiting my doctor and I've instructed my family that if I become terminal I want to die at home, not in a hospital or nursing home. They also can see the major flaws in the system and they agree with my decision.
